How Do I Get an Account on ProposalSpace?

This is the first step in your application

1. Go to ProposalSpace.com
2. Create an account and password. Securely save the email you used to create the account and your password. We strongly recommend that you do not use your university email ending in .edu, but use a personal email address.

3. At this time, make these two email addresses “safe senders” in your email system. This is sometimes called whitelisting. Add them to your contacts as well:
 - a. support@mq.proposalspace.com
 - b. proposalsphialpha@gmail.com
4. Once you create your account, log out and back in, and “click on your name in the upper right-hand corner.”

5. When you click on your name, you can complete your profile. This will autofill fields later.
6. Now you are ready to start your submission. Once you started it automatically saves your work and you can leave it, come back and log in again, and continue to work on it until you are satisfied it is complete.
7. When complete, you must click the button “submit.” You will receive an email confirmation of your submission.
 - a. The email will contain a reference number for your submission. If you write to us about it, we will need that number to ensure that we reference the correct submission. We cannot respond to emails that do not include that number.
8. If you do realize an error after you submit, the administrator can “unsubmit it for you” up until the due date. Once unsubmitted, you may make the correction and then resubmit. To request an “unsubmit” please email proposalsphialpha@gmail.com and provide your name, proposal title and proposal number.
